ULTIMATUM TO LOCARNO POWERS IS ISSUED BY HITLER, AS DELEGATES GATHER TO DEBATE RHINE QUESTION

German Government Delivers 11th-Hour Warning That If Germany is Not Met Half-Way, Chancellor Will Withdraw Peaceful Proposals of Saturday

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, Germany, Mar. 12—Chancellor Adolf Hitler today issued a "take or leave it" ultimatum to the Locarno powers as statesmen representing those countries gathered in London to debate his reoccupation of the Rhineland.

The German government in a statement issued just a few hours before the Locarno diplomats were scheduled to meet in London, delivered an eleventh-hour warning that if Germany is not met half way, Chancellor Hitler will withdraw the peaceful proposals he made Saturday. The statement, officials say, continues to be a menace to France.

The statesmen expressed Germany's desire to take part in direct negotiations, and also that the Reich will maintain its Rhineland status quo during any such negotiations.

The Reich said they will not increase the present forces occupying the Rhineland if other powers show their "analogous" attitude.

Finally the statesmen threatened Chancellor Hitler would withdraw his peace proposals, including the offer to return to the League of Nations, if the German case is not discussed to Germany's liking.

LONDON, Mar. 12—(INS)—Britain is ready to join France, Belgium, and Italy in a formal declaration calling upon Germany to withdraw troops from the Rhineland, it was reported in government circles today as the Cabinet assembled, the third time in two days, for a meeting that will go far in directing the course of the Locarno session to be held later in the day.

Startled by the vigor of France's stand against Germany, Britain turned, as Hitler did Saturday, to "symbolism" and weighed a proposal that Germany make a "token" withdrawal of troops from the Rhineland.

With a formal statement indicating Germany, followed by this "symbolic" withdrawal of troops, Britain then hopes that it will be possible to bring France and Germany together at a

Dog Attacks Child On Street in Morrisville

MORRISVILLE, Mar. 12—A number of dogs were shot yesterday following the rabies scare which developed on Tuesday afternoon when a dog bit Audrey Hibbs, 11 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hibbs, North Pennsylvania avenue. The child was on her way home from school when the animal attacked her and bit her nose. The wound was treated by Dr. William H. Kunsman.

Chief of Police Albert Cooper, who was on the scene a few minutes later, narrowly escaped from also being bitten. When he drew his gun, the animal made a lunge at the officer and attempted to bite the pistol.

The dog's head was examined and it was announced by Chief Cooper that the animal was suffering from rabies.

Mayor Thomas B. Stockham immediately declared a 100-day quarantine on all dogs and ordered the police department to strictly enforce the law because it is believed the animal which bit the Hibbs child bit a number of dogs in town.

Common Council confirmed Mayor Stockham's action and word was sent to the State Department of Animal Industry to send an agent here to take care of the situation.

ECONOMY PLAN OFFERED COUNCIL OF TULLYTOWN

To Reduce Salaries of Borough
Officials; Wish Rate Maintained

TULLYTOWN ITEMS

TULLYTOWN, Mar. 12—One of the chief items of discussion at the meeting of Tullytown borough council, held Monday evening, was the report submitted by the finance committee. This committee offered a plan of economy which will save the taxpayer. This plan includes a reduction of salaries of some borough officials. The reductions were made in order to maintain the present tax rate of four mills.

After discussing these suggestions they were adopted by the council. The setting of the tax rate was deferred until the April meeting. This was done to enable the street committee to check over the streets of the town, and estimate the amount of necessary repairs which will have to be made. The severe winter has caused a number of holes in some of the streets.

Duck Island in River Sold for About $80,000

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 12—According to a realty transfer recorded in the Mercer County Court House, Seth W. Watson, of Germantown, Pa., has purchased 170 acres of land on Duck Island from the Duck Island Farm Company, of which T. A. Karno is the head. According to the stamps contained on the deed the price was in the neighborhood of $80,000.

There is much speculation as to the purpose for which the site was acquired. Mr. Karno was not told for what use the land was desired and Mr. Watson would say nothing about the transaction, excepting to admit that in the purchase he acted for other parties. Chester D. Rotner, of Philadelphia, was the real estate broker who negotiated the purchase of the site.

Borings have been made on the site, but the workmen are secretive relative to identity of their employers.

A Halt On Government By Raiding Parties

(New York American, March 6, 1936)

The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia has laid a restraining hand upon Senator Hugo Black and his marauding Committee.

For some months it appears that this Committee, which has yet to make the discovery that THE CITIZEN has ANY RIGHTS, has been ransacking the files of the telegraph companies and assembling private messages to see whether BY CHANCE they contain any matter which the Committee can use for its political fishing excursions or for personal publicity.

SUCH A THING IS A RANK ABUSE OF POWER AND IN FLAGRANT VIOLATION OF THE CITIZEN'S IMMUNITY, GUARANTEED BY THE CONSTITUTION, FROM "UNREASONABLE SEARCHES AND SEIZURES."

It might be well to enlighten Senator Black as to the existence of this constitutional immunity.

Perhaps we cannot do better than recall some observations upon it by Cooley, the great authority on constitutional law.

The meaning of this provision is that every man may defend his privacy not against private individuals merely, but AGAINST OFFICERS OF THE LAW AND THE STATE ITSELF.

The Amendment, which is a part of our Bill of Rights, declares that "the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized."

The latter clause sufficiently indicates the circumstances under which a reasonable search or seizure may be made.

FIRST, a warrant must issue; and this implies—

(1)—A law which shall point out the circumstances and conditions under which the warrant may be granted;

(2)—A court or magistrate empowered by the law to grant it;

(3)—An officer to whom it may be issued for service.

SECOND, a showing of probable cause must be made, by which is meant the production of satisfactory evidence to the court or magistrate, showing that a case exists in which the issue of a warrant would be justified by the law, and pointing out the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized, if they shall be found there.

THIRD, a particular description in the warrant of the place, person or thing, sufficient to guide the officer in executing it.

AND THE SUPREME COURT HAS HELD THAT NOTHING LESS THAN THIS CAN BE SUFFICIENT!

Well, Senator Black, you and your Committee are at last where you belong, in A COURT of competent jurisdiction, which has power to scrutinize your conduct, and if found to be in transgression of the rights and immunities of the citizen, to remind you of their inviolability—in terms which even you may be able to understand!

Coach Dougherty Addresses Meeting of the K. of C.

Coach William Dougherty, of Bristol high school, addressed the Knights of Columbus at the K. of C. home, Tuesday evening, with an interesting talk on sports. He stressed the point that it is not only the paying of money at the door that promotes sport, but the effort and encouragement lent to the boy or girl, playing with them, catching, working out with them in their endeavors of the particular sport they like.

Coach Dougherty's talk was well applauded as was the demonstration of the Bucks County Rescue Squad under the supervision of Mr. Porter and three members of his staff. They stated they have handled 900 calls. Mr. Porter gave a lengthy talk on first aid, and showed the right and wrong way of administering first aid to a drowning person.

The Knights of Columbus are arranging to have a sport night in April, open to the men and young men of Bristol.

William J. Slater was chairman of the affair with Robert McCurry introducing the guests. Refreshments were served.

RIVER ICE JAM BREAKS IN THE UPPER DELAWARE

Delaware River 5 Feet Above Normal at Trenton; Many Roads Impassable

TRAFFIC DIVERTED HERE

Swollen with rain, melted ice and spring freshets, the Schuylkill and Susquehanna rivers flowed over the banks today, bringing danger and damage to large sections of eastern and central Pennsylvania.

The city of Reading, ready with first aid, had to rout ten families, and 200 prepared to flee. The Schuylkill was reported 10½ feet above normal and still rising, threatening the entire valley southward to Philadelphia.

The Susquehanna inundated lowlands, and no immediate prospect was in sight. A portion of Shipensburg was placed under from two to three feet of water when an old water dam broke. Trains proceeded cautiously and highways were closed.

At Towanda, the Susquehanna river and its tributaries drove families from their homes, closed highways, and washed out a railroad right-of-way.

A three hundred foot section of the Susquehanna and New York Railroad was carried away, and the Towanda airport was covered with a foot of water.

Streams are swollen, lowlands flooded, many roads impassable, due to the heavy rains and thaws of the past few days.

The ice in the upper Delaware River broke at Reigelsville last night at nine o'clock, and began moving downstream, and according to reports it was quite a sight. It is scheduled to reach Point Pleasant at 12:30 this afternoon, and the New Hope section at two o'clock. The river in the vicinity of Reigelsville was reported as rising two feet an hour, and was seven feet above normal.

The Delaware River at the Delaware Water Gap was rising and moderate flood stages were reported late last night. At Stroudsburg the river over-

Rare Old Antiques Are To Be Shown at Doylestown

The Bucks County Antique Show, one of the most attractive of its kind in the United States, will be staged for the third consecutive year, at the Doylestown Country Club, from May 19 to 23.

In three years the show has grown rapidly until it now attracts people from various sections of the country because of the high quality of its exhibits that come from the historic Bucks county sections.

As in former years, exhibitors will be confined to Bucks county, but several new exhibitors will be in the 1936 show. The new exhibitors are of a character that will bring added attractiveness and interest.

Records show that attendance last year almost doubled that of the first show. Over 1500 visitors, including many prominent collectors, were attracted to Doylestown from many parts of the East.

The organization conducting this year's show is composed of the following persons: President, Ira S. Reed, Sellersville; secretary, Mary B. Atkinson, Doylestown; treasurer, J. Fabian Cooper, Tullytown; publicity manager, Major Abel MacReynolds, Doylestown; entertainment chairman, Mrs. William Haven, Washington Crossing.

Managers of the show promise an even better affair this year. Only fine old things of high quality will be shown. This historic old section in which this third annual show will be held, its friendly atmosphere and the beautiful Spring-time surroundings of the Doylestown Country Club will again make it an event of wide appeal to lovers of antiques, in the opinion of the many patrons of the show.

Stace B. McEntee Dies Suddenly in Doylestown

Stace B. McEntee, 66, well-known Bucks County attorney, died very suddenly at his home in Doylestown last evening. Mr. McEntee returned to his home after trying the last case of the day in civil court. He had dinner with his wife, and walked from the table to a chair, when he was stricken with a heart attack. Death occurred before a physician arrived.

Mr. McEntee was one of the old-line Democrats, and had a host of friends, and was highly respected throughout the county. He was a native of Nockamixon Township, and was a graduate of the University of Virginia. While not a wealthy man Mr. McEntee contributed liberally and was always a sponsor of the under-dog. He handled an exceptionally large number of parole cases, for which he never received one cent of recompense. He was a member of the Bucks County Bar and the Philadelphia County Bar Associations. He was a protege of the late Judge B. Orlady. He became a member of the Bucks County Bar in 1915, and was the Democratic candidate for district attorney of Bucks County in 1925. He was the candidate for judge of Bucks County in 1931, and was defeated by Judge Calvin S. Boyer. He was a member of Doylestown Kiwanis Club. Mr. McEntee is survived by his wife, one brother and two sons. Funeral arrangements are being made, and also for a memorial service to be conducted by the Bucks County Bar Association.

PERSONAL LIBERTY

"Make mine tea," is the slogan of a current advertising campaign. It tactfully suggests substituting tea for stronger beverages on convivial occasions.

Probably a good deal would be gained for the safety and health of the community if the suggestion were more generally accepted. We now have had several years of rather uncontrolled celebration of regained personal liberty since repeal of the 18th Amendment. That exuberance of spirit for which Americans are criticised has had time to effervesce.

It may be worth while now to regain the exercise of another phase of personal liberty, that of saying, "Make mine tea, or coffee or milk or fruit juice." This would afford real relief and satisfaction to that substantial group of people who do not like either the taste or the effect of alcoholic beverages, and it should be possible without loss of the spirit of good fellowship and conviviality.

There is much force in suggestion. If it were generally acknowledged that politeness does not require acceptance of a series of drinks against the guest's better judgment, many a social occasion would be remembered more pleasantly the morning after. And perhaps, also the record of accidents to automobiles driven by persons who had been drinking would be somewhat shortened.

AS CRAZES RUN

It is not for a layman to pass judgment on a professional opinion, but we are moved to say that there seems to be considerable common sense in what a Johns Hopkins doctor says. His observation runs in part thus:

"When you think that for eons and eons your ancestors got along without diet, isn't it strange that all of a sudden we seem to get the idea that we have to have certain special foods, or else?"

And he also has something very much like this to say about the present call for vitamins. We do not know much about vitamins. Maybe they are very necessary. Maybe there are times when we need more of some kind than we do of others. Maybe it is advisable to keep in the system a balance of the "plagacy" things. But really, when we get to the point where we are assured that some special kind is now made an ingredient of this and that and the other, everything from cookies to enough strong, it does seem as though the whole thing was getting rather absurd.

From personal experience, we do not know anything about diets. Presumably there are times when persons will profit by paying reasonable attention to what they eat. Some persons are fat and some persons are lean and some have stomachs that function normally, and some have stomachs that have to be coaxed. It is reasonable to suppose that diets may be helpful in such cases. Even the Johns Hopkins man does not say they are not. But we do not wonder that he classes the craze for that sort of thing as a top-her for all the human quackness he has witnessed in 45 years of professional practice.

The thaw has progressed so rapidly in parts of the West, a number of stranded snowplows have been reached by rescue parties.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain. Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

FIRST FEDERAL HANGING FOR G-MAN MURDER

By Eugene J. Cadou

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Mar. 12--(INS)—Eyes of the law enforcement agencies of the nation will be on the yard of the Marion County jail here on March 24. For on that date the G-men will hurl a challenge of death in the face of organized crime.

The slaying of a Department of Justice agent by a criminal will be avenged by a legal death sentence for the first time on March 24, when George W. Barrett, a Kentucky feudist, is hanged in the jailyard. Barrett was the first man to be assessed the full penalty of a 1934 Federal law stipulating hanging for the slaying of a G-man.

Barrett, who wears glasses and has the mild demeanor of a professional man who goes to church every Sunday, was convicted of shooting to death Nelson B. Klein, a government agent stationed at Cincinnati, in a gun battle at West College Corner, Ind., August 16, 1935. His conviction and sentence occurred in Federal court here.

John Paul Close, who harbored Baby Face Nelson, was the first to be convicted under the new Federal act, but the jury recommended mercy, and Close was taken to the prison for dangerous criminals at Alcatraz, Calif., to serve a life sentence.

The jury of nine farmers, two automobile salesmen and a saw mill operator, which convicted Barrett did not recommend leniency.

There was a reason. Barrett was a hardened criminal, with a worse record in many respects than that of John Dillinger. Val Nolan, Federal district attorney, charged that Barrett had shot and killed his mother and had beaten his sister, Rachel, to death, avoiding punishment by the nebulous justice that prevails in the Kentucky feud region.

Barrett also had participated in innumerable gun battles of feudists in which many were killed at Manchester, Ky., and vicinity, where he was reared. Then he had varied his criminal career with light excursions into automobile stealing with alterations of numbers, repainting of cars and other tricks of the game.

It was for violation of the Dyer Federal automobile anti-theft law that G-men Klein and Donald McGovern pursued Barrett on the night of the fatal shooting.

The government men had cornered Barrett in a dark alley. They had wounded him below each knee and he had fallen. But he was still alive. He sighted his gun and murdered Klein.

The defense of Barrett was based upon his claim that he thought Klein and his partner were Kentucky feudists seeking vengeance for past gun encounters in the Blue Grass State. To that end, steely-eyed Kentuckians took the witness stand and described incredible feud battles in which the Barrett family had participated.

But the jurors did not believe his story.

It was a trying ordeal for Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell—the first time he was forced to impose the death sentence. In fact, the jurist was far more affected than the defendant, who sat calmly in his wheel chair and heard the fatal words spoken.

The still courtroom heard Judge Baltzell say:

"It is a hard thing to deprive a man of liberty. It is harder to take away his life—something we cannot give again. But the law is mandatory. You are to hang by the neck until dead on the premises of the Marion County jail. The United States marshal for this district will conduct the hanging." Judge Baltzell then asked the grey-haired defendant whether he wished to alter any statement he made during his testimony.

"I killed Nelson Klein in defense of my own life," was all Barrett would say.

"I pray Almighty God to have mercy upon you," said Judge Baltzell, shaken with emotion.

"Thank you, your honor," Barrett replied ironically.

Then Barrett was wheeled away. He bears more than a dozen bullet marks on his body from his feud battles.

The Kentuckian will be the first man hanged at the Marion County jail since April 18, 1866 when a Negro, named Robert Phillips was executed for killing his wife. The mode of execution in Indiana now is electrocution at the State Prison at Michigan City.

A special gallows will be constructed in the jailyard, where Barrett is scheduled to meet death at sunrise, about six a. m. Only attaches of the Marshal's office and newspapermen will be permitted to witness the hanging.

The grim-faced G-men are gratified. Edgar Hoover, head of the Department of Justice investigators, has sent warmest congratulations to Nolan for obtaining the death sentence.

It was a great victory for justice, Hoover said.

flowed the banks. Ice jams from Port Jervis were moving down-stream and approaching Shawnee - on - the - Delaware. The highway department posted men to watch for possible slides from the Delaware Water Gap.

Already beyond control, and rising at the rate of a foot an hour, the Delaware river went on a rampage today at Easton, pouring over its banks in many lowland sections at Easton and Port Jervis, N. Y. Riding the crest of its turbulent water, huge cakes of ice were being carried down the river at a rapid pace, and it was feared the streets along the river front at Easton would be inundated within a few hours. In West Easton, where several streets of a residential section were flooded, a dwelling owned by Dr. Rufus R. Roberts caved in. The tenant of the structure had vacated the premise last night.

The Delaware River early this morning was reported as rising considerably in the vicinity of Trenton, N. J. At one o'clock the water at Trenton was reported five feet above normal. At the Bristol water works, slight freshet conditions were experienced, and at high tide the river was about one foot above normal. The water is exceedingly muddy.

The Neshaminy Creek is high, and during the night rose to within a few feet of the road-way above Newportville.

Local garage employees were busy yesterday and today pulling cars out of mud, as many of the side roads were in the worst condition they have been for years. In the country districts many cars are being left at the entrance of drive-ways, in order to avoid mud holes. The dirt road leading from Midway to Hulmeville was closed to traffic yesterday. Durham Road, between Midway and Hellings Corner, still remains closed to traffic, travel difficulty being caused by "road boils."

Magnolia Road is under water today, but automobiles continue to "ford" it. Some pedestrians and cyclists have found it necessary to remove shoes and stockings, and wade through, rather than take a circuitous route.

Highway patrolmen at South Langhorne barracks state they have issued no orders to truck drivers to use the Bristol Pike, but are of the opinion many are using Route 13 because of holes in the Lincoln highway. Throughout yesterday, and the entire night, and today, fleets of trucks, as well as private cars made a steady stream on the route through Bristol.

PROPER AGING

Tobacco in its natural state is harsh and strong. Though "cured" by the grower before sale, it is unsuited for use without further aging. During this aging period (which ranges in the case of Lucky Strike from 1½ to 3 years) important changes occur. These "Nature" changes result in the partial "smoothing out" of the original harsh qualities of the leaf. Our process of manufacture carries these improvements many steps further—as every Lucky Strike Cigarette exemplifies: A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco.

LUCKIES ARE LESS ACID!

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG, Mar. 12 — Guffey's handymen at the Capitol, Democratic State Chairman "Dave" Lawrence, is out with a fresh blast against the newspapers of Pennsylvania for daring to publish anything critical of the Roosevelt Administration and the New Deal.

So long as there was any hope that the New Deal would really do something worth while for the common people of Pennsylvania, newspapers regardless of party gave generously of their space to New Deal propaganda, sent out in huge bales from Washington.

Now, however, since the failure of the N. R. A. and the A. A. A. and since both were discovered to have been injurious to the wage earners and the farmers of the State, the newspapers have become critical. So Lawrence and his crew have plotted to destroy public confidence in the newspapers—and are using the paid employees of the federal and State governments in an effort to build up circulation for their own near-litigious publication, a monthly magazine called "We the People."

Every State and federal employee has been provided with a sample copy, together with a letter from Lawrence, in which he says: "An account has been opened in your name in Democratic State Committee headquarters and each and every subscription you obtain will be credited to that account."

Enclosed are twenty-four subscription blanks and the employee is told to go and talk his friends into coming across with a dollar each—the plain inference being that he who doesn't get the necessary $24 will be dropped from the public payroll. It is understood that FWA workers will be included. Indeed, there is already evidence on record that at least two relief workers have been told by their bosses they can "either get these subscriptions or get fired."

Attacking the newspapers, Lawrence makes the ridiculous charge that "eighty per cent. of Pennsylvania's newspapers are owned or controlled by industrialists, bankers or utility corporations." Lawrence, if he knows anything about the newspapers, must know that is false, for at least four times a year each newspaper in the State is required by law to publish in its columns full information not only telling who its stock or bondholders are, but who in any way has a financial interest in the publication.

The new Lawrence organ is incorporated. It costs a lot of money to print. It carefully conceals who puts up the cash to pay its bills. As an affront to the printers of Pennsylvania it is printed in Cleveland, Ohio.

"Fear of Inflation," Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor told a gathering of Republicans at Scranton the other night, "is the one remaining great obstacle to the recovery which began when the Supreme Court threw off the N. R. A. and followed it with the A. A. A."

Chairman Taylor accused President Roosevelt of trying by inference to place the blame for this fear upon the veterans and the bonus law.

The President's spending spree, his squandering of billions of dollars of money, and not the comparatively few dollars required to pay the bonus.

being tossed with lavish hand to groups of people to whom the Government owed nothing.

"In my opinion it is wrong to look upon the bonus as a grant. Soldiers of the World War shouldered guns and risked their lives for a paltry $40 a month, while their comrades back home were being paid from $15 to $25 a day. So I say, it comes with poor grace for the President to try to make political capital for himself at the expense of the former service men. His own spendthrift policies, and not the bonus, have brought about the present crisis."

Up to and including Saturday, April 18th, voters may be enrolled for the April primaries by having their names entered upon the registry books, according to State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor's notices sent out to County Chairmen.

The letter further announces that in Pittsburgh, Scranton and third class cities, all of which have permanent registration, additional enrollments may be taken Saturday, March 28th. Prior to that time the Commissioners may order registrars to sit at the polling places to enroll voters and accept registrations at the Commission's Office any time until March 28th.

"In accordance with the Permanent Registration Acts, in second and third class cities, voters already enrolled according to party need not re-register unless they desire to change their party affiliation, or in the event of a voter having moved from one election district to another since his registration, it will be necessary for him to file a removal notice with the Election Commissioners at least sixty days prior to the Primary."

ZETTLER AND CASTOR TRAINING FOR BOUTS

The squad of amateur boxers training under the direction of Johnny Straffe in the St. Ann's gym is increasing daily. Yesterday Jole Zettler, Washington Crossing ace, joined the boxers and earlier in the week Chet Castor returned. Trainer Straffe intends to have the local boys in tip-top shape for the bouts which will be held in the Italian Mutual Aid Hall, Monday night. The fights are being held under the auspices of the St. Ann's Athletic Association with the sanction of the Middle Atlantic district of the A. A. U.

Over a hundred fans packed the St. Ann's gym last night to watch the fighters go through their chores. Trainer Straffe was aided in his work by "Mooch" Murphy, professional fighter from Trenton. A casualty took place last night and caused the loss of a St. Ann's fighter. While sparring with Straffe, Jimmy Galeone, who was to have fought on the card Monday night, cut open his eye. He will not be able to appear for a while.

Boxing fans of this locality are anxiously waiting to see Phil Quici in action. Quici joined the Purple and Gold stable last week and is asking for a bout. Johnny Raccagnio, who fought in the outdoor bouts, is gunning for the scalp of several men who beat him in the outdoor arena.

Matchmaker Pasty Moffo is still waiting word as to the Adolph Rittcell-Lawrence Thorphy bout. Rittcell was crowned 112-pound champion at the recent Middle Atlantic tournament. Several clubs are in the bid for this return match.

Reserve seats are in an exceptionally good demand according to Charles P. Alta, who is in charge of this division of the St. Ann's Athletic Association. Because of this demand, Alta is advising the spectators to order their tickets before the weekend.

COLEMAN BOWS TO EMIL DUSEK

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 12—Emil Dusek, of the Omaha Duseks, defeated Abie Coleman, squat Jewish grappler, in two out of three falls last night at the Arena before 1,400 mat fans. After each had gained a fall, Dusek won the match when he forced Coleman to yield to a punishing hammer lock.

The match proved to be a highly entertaining affair, with the crowd wildly applauding Coleman's offensive tactics and roundly booing Emil in both victory and defeat. Dusek gained the first fall after 20 and a half minutes of tussling when he slipped out of a body press and claimed the "death lock" on his opponent. Returning for the second fall, Coleman charged Dusek off his feet and finally stretched his rowdy foe on the mat with a well-directed drop-kick. The Omaha grappler had the best of the going in the late stages of the tussle and finally made Coleman quit with the hammer lock. The last fall lasted nine minutes. Coleman weighed 205; Dusek, 215.

George Koverly, 215, of California, and Scotty MacDougall, 221, of Scotland, wrestled to a draw in the semi-winding John Swenski, 200, of Lynn, Mass., tossed Tony Coleman, 202, of New York, in 19:13, and Ed Moske, 216, of New York, and Ivan Managoff, 222, of Hungary, wrestled to a 30-minute draw in the preliminaries.

Miss Harriet Stover and Mrs. Sara Crowther, Doylestown, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Priestley, Walnut and Cedar streets, for a day the latter part of the week.

Regular use of the Courier Classified column is economical and profitable.

CALL OFF GAMES BOOKED HERE FOR TONIGHT

The games of the Bristol Amateur basketball League scheduled for tonight have been called off. The officials of the circuit decided this at a meeting in the Moose home last night when it was discovered that several of the teams would be unable to secure their outside players because of a tournament in Trenton.

The directors of the circuit have also decided to allow the Third Ward team to play the Moose for the second half championship. The reason for this is that the schedule, unless curtailed, will carry into the middle of April. The Rangers and Moose will clash on Tuesday night. A victory for the Third Ward team will end the second half while if the Moose wins the team will play again on Thursday night.

In the first game Tuesday night, the Odd Fellows, first half champions, will meet the Hibernians. If a second game is necessary, the Odd Fellows will play the pick of the league.

BOWLING RESULTS

Anyone desiring to enter the "candle-pin" tournament to be run in the near future on the Bristol Alleys may do so by getting in touch with A. Brooks or P. J. O'Boyle.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12—(INS)—The United States Government will flatly refuse to join in any economic or financial sanctions which the League of Nations may invoke against Germany at the behest of France.

The State Department today adopted a strict "hands-off" policy in the latest European war crisis which has resulted from Germany's military occupation of the forbidden Rhineland.

Although the United States participated in practically all of the important discussions which led up to the signing of the Versailles Treaty in 1919 and reserved certain rights in connection with that treaty, this government now wants no part in the dangerous situation which has developed as a result of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's virtual scrapping of that pact.

The view prevails here that the crisis is a purely European problem and that the League of Nations would have no justification for expecting American co-operation in any sanctions which might be invoked against Germany.

Therefore, if France should succeed in inducing the League to impose sanctions against Germany either as a punitive measure or to force Hitler to withdraw German troops from the Rhineland, it is felt here that no support can be expected from this country.

If France or the League actually goes so far as to seek American support for such action, the movement will be flatly rejected by this government, officials said.
